At the recent municipal election in Charleston, W. Va., the Republicans carried the day, electing all but one on the city ticket. Now who will dare say the G. O. P. is dead?

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND soon saw what a cyclone he had raised by the announcement that country editors should not have the Postoffice, and he has modified the order in that particular. Editors may now take hope.

THERE was an increase of 10 per cent. in the number of business failures in Great Britain last year, compared with 1891. This in great contrast to the condition of affairs in the United States. Free-trade, then, Protection here, results as given. How will it be here when Democratic Free-trade comes upon us?

AFTER an existence of three months and the loss of several hundred dollars, The Republican, printed at Louisiana, has suspended. It is succeeded by The Leader, Democrat, and is the first number of the latter paper The Republican has this to say:

We have done our best to give the people of Lawrence county a good local paper, and are very thankful for the many flattering compliments, but they will not pay our bills or buy bread and butter for our family.

We must confess that we have been sorely disappointed in this venture, as a paper with nearly two thousand Republican voters could and should support a paper handsomely, but whether the fault lies with us or with them we shall not attempt to say, but note of the promises made us have been fulfilled and none of our hopes realized.

The light which we have been making against the whisky power has also aided in bringing about this result, as we have gained nothing financially.

It was ARTHUR WARD who volunteered all his relations for the war, taking good care to keep himself at a safe distance from shot and shell, and it is always the ARTHUR WARD who urge the inexperienced editor to attack the "whisky power," and give him the most substantial support—with their mouths.

It is the old, old story; the "whisky power" always pays its servants and agents in good sound money, and it is with paper and ink and bread and meat, while the moral high-roller borrows and reads his neighbor's paper and lets the editor sink if he cannot swim. This is true not only of Lawrence county, but it is true of every community.

A NERVOUS WOMAN

She Discovers a Burglar at Work in Her Room.

Capturing the Thief She Holds Him for the Police.

Mrs. Garland, of Cincinnati, in the Role of a Thiefcatcher. The Burglar Caught in Her Residence and His Name as Wm. Kennedy—A Slick Crook.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—About the nerviest burglar that has been seen around police headquarters for some time was captured by officers early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Lillie Garland, a married woman, had a desperate encounter with the burglar, and for her strength and courage is due the fellow's capture.

Mrs. Garland, who says her husband is in Hamilton, sleeps in a single room on the first floor. About 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning she was awakened by a noise at the window, and looking up she saw a man tearing down the lace curtains. Mrs. Garland sprang out of bed and caught the fellow.

The burglar was but a pigmy in her grasp, and while she held him she pulled down the window.

She then threw the burglar upon the floor and ran out the door in her night clothing, screaming "Police! Police!"

He gave her his name as William Kennedy and his age as 28 years.

Then he paralyzed everybody by saying that Mr. Garland was his mistress, and the reason she raised a row was that she had another man in the room and she refused to let him in.

To satisfy himself, he says, he raised the window and climbed in the room. Mrs. Garland was sent for. She came, confronted the fellow, and denied that she had ever seen him.

Kennedy insisted that his story was true, and it looked like a question of veracity between the two. Finally he was asked if he knew the woman's name.

Kennedy could not tell. Even then he would not waver.

The police think he is one of the nerviest fellows the local department ever had and sent him down stairs with a charge, but they appoint his name. It is the general opinion that Kennedy is a "good one."

BLAINE'S REMAINS.

Efforts to Remove Them to Augusta, Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Acting under the terms of a resolution adopted by the legislature of Maine, Gov. Cleaves has written to Mr. James G. Blaine, requesting permission for the state officials to remove the remains of her late husband from Oak Hill cemetery, in this city, to Augusta, the capital city of Maine, and his home throughout his long and promising career.

At the time the resolution was adopted by the legislature, it was understood that the people of the state would provide a monument to Mr. Blaine's final resting place in case the effort to secure the removal of the remains was successful. Mrs. Blaine returned Sunday from New York and has not made any reply to the request of the governor. Whatever may be the decision reached in the matter, it is understood that the remains will indicate a change of residence for Mrs. Blaine. She will continue to make her home in Washington, but she has a smaller and more retired home and a smaller one near her eyes, he has been unconscious and in a few moments his life went out. His death was without pain.

His Body Found in a Creek.

SOUTH TEXAS, Ind., March 15.—A. B. Clifford, an old and well-known resident of this city, who has shown signs of mental derangement, wandered from his home Sunday morning and was not returned at night. Search was made, and no trace of him was found until Sunday afternoon, when some Polish boys found him in a pool of water in a creek. It is supposed that in his wanderings he attempted to cross the bridge, which has no rail, and accidentally fell off.

Cleveland's Pension Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—Western congressmen who approached the president to urge the claims of a western candidate for the office of commissioner of pensions are authority for the statement that Mr. Cleveland informed them that he had about determined to appoint an eastern man to this position and that the office would have gone to Gen. Slocum, of New York, if his advancing years had permitted him to undertake its onerous duties.

Ed Perkins in a Fight.

St. Louis, March 15.—Melville D. London, better known as Ed Perkins, was one of the passengers on a train leaving Chicago. Mr. London got into a heated argument with the porter of the Pullman car in regard to the ventilation of the car, and the porter, in the remarks of Mr. London, and in the fight which followed the noted lecturer was badly bruised and injured. On arriving here the porter was discharged.

FOREIGN EXHIBITS

For the World's Fair Arriving—Value of Tuesday Arrivals Nearly $1 Million Dollars.

New York, March 15.—More than a dozen steam vessels were in port Tuesday unloading and more exhibits for the World's fair passed through the customs house than on any preceding day. The estimated worth of the exhibits were nearly a million dollars.

They came from many countries and there were fifty entries. Among them were 101 cases of paintings from Copenhagen on the steamship Island, valued at $50,000; 38 cases of pictures on the Elman from Rotterdam, valued at $40,000; 24 works of art from the same place valued at $74,000; 24 packages of models from Copenhagen; 20 skulls and 100 cases of pictures from Copenhagen valued at $25; one case of black thorn sticks on the same steamer, presumably for use on the skulls, as the factitious broker said 132 packages of pictures from Liverpool, valued at $18,000; 131 packages of models from London on the Montezuma valued at $5,000.

These exhibits for the fair are hurried through the custom-house much faster than ordinary goods. They are loaded in bonded cars and sent under the government seal to the buildings at Chicago which are, to all intents and purposes bonded warehouses. No duty is paid on them, but they are sent to the city to be stored and pay the duty at Chicago. Otherwise they will be returned to their countries after the exhibition is opened through the port by the arriving.

BATTERING-RAMS.

Colored Fugitives Force Down Walls to Escape Arrest.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 15.—At a raid Tuesday afternoon on a Springdale apartment house, colored men were driven from their hiding places by the iron pillars—saw no way of escape except by reaching the next house.

This could only be done by breaking through the walls. The men who threw their combined weight against the partition wall separating the houses. It went down before them like a cake.

Government Officers Make an Important Raid,

Capturing Several Well-Known West Virginia Counterfeiters.

Two of the offenders follow the Federal officials until they are seized and Compelled to Aid in the search of their Confederates.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 15.—The largest and most dangerous gang of counterfeiters which have infested this state for many years has been broken up, and five of the number arrested. It has been known for a long time that a great quantity of counterfeit silver money of all denominations has been circulated throughout this part of the state, but principally through the rural settlements, and the government officers have been making hard efforts to locate the gang. No success attended their efforts, however, until a short time ago, when Deputy United States Marshal C. A. Stalnaker secured a clue. He suspected that two men named G. W. Webb, a well-known citizen of Belleville, signs of the below, and Madison Weaver, another citizen of that community were members of the gang. The men were taken into custody by the county and from there into Gilmer. They, by shrewd devices, secured the confidence of one of their friends, Stalnaker secured persons at Glendale and arrested them and brought them here and put them in jail. The officer was satisfied that Webb and Weaver were but two members of the gang. The man he so reported to the government. In response Secret Service Agent John Webb was sent out to assist in running down the gang. While Marshall Robinson and Constable Beckwith started at 4 p. m., intending to go to Belleville by steamboat and thence across the country to the mountains, the other young fellow named Ferguson.

Webb and Ferguson were arrested and told that they could either go back to work with them and get the same across the country to the homes of certain parties. The young men selected the latter, and went along under the eyes of the guard. The posse got off the train at the cross-roads, a short distance from Belleville, and started in search of the homes of the two suspected persons. While Marshall Robinson and Chief Mehan were walking along the road with young Webb as prisoner and guide, Thomas Anderson, one of the suspected persons, was seen to cross the road. Chief Mehan left Webb in charge of Marshall Robinson and Captain Anderson, who had purchased the metal from which the counterfeiters were manufactured. He is a single man and highly connected. The next morning the posse of E. Burdette, alias Anthony Mills, a farmer and produce buyer and seller, known all over this section. The residence of Burdette was searched and the officers found the molds from which twenty-five-cent pieces and nickels were molded. Scraps of metal, the neck or gauge from the counterfeiters which were used, were found in the house, besides other evidences of guilt.

While this was going on at the Burdette place the other members of the posse had gone further up to the house of another person. On the way they met their man, Henry Kimes, brother-in-law of Burdette and nephew of Representative Kimes, of this county. Kimes was arrested, and with Burdette and Ferguson, taken back to Belleville. The prisoners were brought to this city, where they were held in the city jail. The posse of $10,000, while Burdette, alias Mills, and Henry Kimes
